

Why Barrett's Technology Solutions?

At Barrett's Technology Solutions, we've dedicated ourselves to completing beautifully integrated projects since 1966. Our experienced team provides clients with advanced, yet easy-to-use systems which optimize technology for every lifestyle and home. We work with the industry's top manufacturers to create the most reliable smart home technology systems and automated commercial environments – custom-crafted for each space and specification.

Keep reading to discover the key differentiators that make Barrett's Technology Solutions one of the leading technology providers in the Greater Chicagoland area and surrounding lake home communities.

Key Differentiators We're Proud Of

We have a highly skilled and experienced team

From the design concept to completion, our superb team provides professional, attentive resources to ensure that your project is executed flawlessly. Consistent, dedicated employees help bolster our longstanding industry reputation. When you call Barrett's Technology Solutions, you know what you are getting – a seasoned team that knows exactly how to blend technology into your daily life, always with a focus on what reflects your design tastes and enhances your lifestyle.

We have a proven process

At Barrett's Technology Solutions, we believe in collaborating with our clients. Our team of experts will guide you and manage every element of your project from start to finish. We begin by taking the time to truly understand your technology needs and design a solution for your unique home or business because, let's face it: There is no one-size-fits-all, cookie-cutter template. When it comes time to start your project, we assign experienced project managers to ensure everything is completed efficiently and to the highest expectations. We also perform much of our set-up in our facility, including rack building, programming, and testing, resulting in less interference with your home life and more efficient project deployment.

We know the project relies not just on technology, but also aesthetics

We create spaces that effortlessly complement your environment. Do you get tired of seeing tangled wires, bulky equipment, and multiple remotes scattered around the home? We do too! We want technology to become a natural, intuitive part of your life, so we make every effort to hide as much of it as possible to perfectly blend in with your décor.

We partner with builders, designers, and architects to ensure a project's success and seamless integration into your home or workspace. At Barrett's Technology Solutions, we believe a project is complete when it offers a superb experience, and design is an integral part of that. Don't settle for anything less than spaces that complement your environment!

Contact us

 (630) 898-2850

 www.barretts.tv

We set high standards to achieve superior results

Standardization is not a luxury when it comes to home technology: It's an absolute necessity. We provide time-tested solutions with the products we choose and how we implement them, ensuring our continued success as we evolve with the ever-changing industry. Technology changes, but our commitment to excellence never will.

Our team wants to give you the most functional, easy-to-use systems possible. From the time we create the technical documents to the time of completion, we take painstaking care to implement every detail necessary. We will never install something just because it is trendy – we provide custom reliable technology to ensure everything is always in optimal working order for your total enjoyment.

We demonstrate our dedication to serving you

At Barrett's Technology Solutions, service doesn't end once the installation is complete. While modern technology is largely reliable, as with any device or product you use such as your phone or car, there can occasionally be a need for service or an update to software. While some companies may pay lip service to ongoing support, we live up to our mission by providing responsive, intelligent guidance. We built our business based on relationships and premium service levels, and that is what continues to set us apart.

Add peace of mind in the event of a disruption: We also have 24/7/365 assistance available, called our Enhanced Support Plan, that provides proactive monitoring and remote repair and lets you reach us whenever a need arises.

Chicago's Choice for Superior, Seamless Home Technology

Ready to experience the Barrett's Technology Solutions difference? We provide the professional, attentive services that homeowners and business owners deserve, from consultation to completion to ongoing support. Our experienced team takes a meticulous approach to choosing and installing superior technology, and you'll find that our attention to detail is unparalleled.

Every time you work with us, you'll receive high-functioning, aesthetically pleasing solutions — installed by trusted experts — that you'll enjoy for years to come.

Contact us

 (630) 898-2850

 www.barretts.tv